Organizational Overview

Femme International is a Non-Governmental Organization with headquarters located in Moshi, Kilimanjaro Tanzania, with a specific focus on menstrual health and hygiene. The organization was founded in 2013 to address the critical lack of menstrual health education available to young girls in Tanzania and Kenya with an overarching goal of breaking down the persistent menstrual taboo. Our education-based program began with the aim of reducing deliberate absenteeism, as a result of menstruation, in schoolgirls, and evolved to work in a school, group, or community setting. Our goal is now to decrease some of the gendered and systemic barriers resulting from menstruation.

We are currently the implementing partner in the PASS-MHW research project: Partnering to Support Schools to Promote Good Menstrual Health and Well-Being. This research project is being funded by the Medical Research Council UK (grant no. MR/T040297/1), and has obtained ethical approval from the National Institute for Medical Research. The PASS-MHW project is evaluating how a school-based intervention consisting of education for boys and girls, small WASH improvements, and reusable menstrual products can improve menstrual health and well-being for secondary schoolgirls.
